

ANNUAL REPORT 2019-20

Foreword

It is my pleasure to write the foreword for the Annual Report of NANAK for the year 2019-20. The year saw further progress in various projects initiated by this organization with focus on holistic development at the village level, especially involving women and children as the prime drivers of growth, development and social change. Convergence and the motto of bridging the rural-urban divide have been the two strong pillars driving all our initiatives which make this organization so unique in its philosophy and commitment. As in past, NANAK continued with its efforts to bring various stakeholders on a common platform so that we continue to learn from each other and combine our strengths since we strongly believe that no one entity can by itself make the kind of positive difference which is required for any area or segment of persons. I congratulate the team of committed personnel at NANAK to take the rural school in Bihar to greater heights in this period. It is heartening to see that school has become a hub for several activities with passing time and caters to different age groups through its various community development initiatives. Taking its commitment towards village development in the areas under intervention forward, NANAK continued its interventions in the areas of Education and Early Childhood Development, Skills Training, Women's Empowerment through Capacity and Leadership Building despite its meager resources. Advocacy efforts on the issues related to social challenges like Anti alcoholism saw very positive outcomes with the state government in Bihar itself coming up with a strong anti-liquor policy in the state which is indeed a response to the collective voice of women from the grassroots. The organization faced lot of challenge too this year in continuing the standards and quality of education in its village school in the remote village of Majhui in Sasaram, Bihar due to turn over of staff members and the resources not being adequate to match the required pace of development. Despite these challenges it is heartening to see that the school continued to act as a community hub, and bring about a positive change in the village and its surrounding areas. The faculty and volunteers of NANAK continued to organize awareness campaigns on social issues such as anti-alcoholism, health camps, tree-plantation drives for the entire village community throughout the year. The Library and Information Centre within the school premises set up in collaboration with Read India was found useful by the entire village community. The Women's Empowerment agenda was taken forward during the year with skill training courses in stitching, tailoring, computers beauty and wellness courses at Timarpur, Raipurchor, Arrah, and Deo. Women have been encouraged to use these centres as spaces to form self-help groups, and MahilaSamooch (Women collectives). Workshops in personality development, health and hygiene, and talks on gender justice, women's empowerment, etc. have contributed to the strengthening of women's self-esteem and overall personality development. While NANAK's first priority is the rural community in Bihar, the rural-urban continuum always poses a challenge in terms of communities who migrate from rural areas or small towns to Delhi in search of jobs. In order to provide better opportunities to such families, NANAK has partnered this year with Tata Power to operationalize a centre for imparting vocational training to the youth staying in North Delhi in the vicinity of Timarpur whose parents are mostly casual workers/ daily wagers and living in slum like colonies. Following a life cycle approach children of all age groups have been gradually involved in the centre with medley of activities for their personality development and value education. I am extremely grateful to all our sponsors, especially individuals who have been associated in this journey, without whom it may not have been possible to scale up the projects and sustain the village level initiatives including the school which has established a name for itself in the region for the quality of education it imparts to the village children and for building a model of convergence where school is a hub for community level activities.

About NANAK

NANAK is a pan India organisation that operates at two levels—one at the micro level with direct services at the grassroots and the other at the macro level with advocacy to influence policy change, by providing a platform for capacity enhancement of other CSOs and stakeholders (connected with its NFAC program). NANAK's vision is to harness the full potential of individuals and institutions through knowledge creation and dissemination, with the goal of empowering the disadvantaged.

While the primary movers of this organisation are our rural communities at the grassroots in Bihar, and the urban poor of the DelhiNCR region, the advisors and members of NANAK are a set of individuals who come with years of experience, competence, passion and commitment to bring about positive change in communities through a participatory approach. NANAK's consistent effort is towards bridging the divide between government and communities, between various civil society groups and reaching out to the unreached.

Areas of Our Intervention

Advocacy, Knowledge Sharing and Capacity Enhancement for Good Governance Practices

NANAK has adopted convergence as its philosophy in all its endeavours, and at the same time, set up a dedicated platform for promoting convergence action at different levels. This is fostered through a program called National Forum for Action on Convergence (NFAC) with a vision to make governance of social development programs and welfare schemes more effective by enhancing participatory processes/norms, building capability and leadership at multiple levels, with consistent effort towards institutionalizing convergences a practice. This is a resource platform that has emerged out of previous and ongoing initiatives aiming to strengthen convergence for social inclusion and gender justice. This initiative has brought together different stakeholders (experts, serving and retired civil servants, civil society organizations) to share experiences based on research, ground level actions to inform policy and bring useful insights for effective implementation and reach of government programs and services. It is also a platform for generating better understanding and fostering collective action on critical issues and emerging priorities such as sustainable livelihoods, violence against women, sanitation, financial inclusion and governance of social development programs and welfare schemes.

While this is separately listed as a program, NANAK adopts the convergence approach in all its other areas of work, hence making convergence serve as its major instrument of social action on ground. NFAC is driven by the vision and mission to bridge the divide between government and communities, between various civil society groups, and to reach out to the unreached, most marginalized and vulnerable groups through evidence based advocacy and programmatic responses. It encourages learning between various thematic & cross-sectorial convergence models. It encourages innovations to improve the delivery of government schemes and services through formation of convergence centres, convergence forums and convergence meetings. The focus of NFAC is also to bring greater dialogue between government, corporate sector and other development agencies.

Teesri Sarkar Abhiyan, training workshop conducted by Dr.Chandra Shekhar Pran for Elected Women Representatives in Siwan, Sasaram, Bihar on 18th February 2016

During the year 2016-17 NFAC focused on taking forward the agenda of Strengthening Local Self-Governance, and especially women's participation. Efforts initiated at the end of 2015-16 were carried forward with consistent capacity building initiatives through awareness generation measures from time to time in the select districts. A stalk taking stakeholders' meet was organized on April 6th, 2016 under the chairmanship of ShRakesh Mehta, patron, NAK-NFAC (also serving as Delhi State Election Commissioner). The meet resulted in consensus on the measures needed to make citizens as well as potential candidates aware of the powers, structure, and functions of urban local municipal bodies in the wake of municipal elections expected by the end of the year 2016. Additionally, NAK-NFAC has been actively collaborating with Dr. Chandra Shekhar Pran, the architect of Teesri Sarkar Abhiyan. In 2017, he conducted a program on strengthening the capacities of rural self governance in Siwan, Aurangabad, and Sasaram, Rohtas, particularly for enhancing women's political participation in Panchayats Raj Institutions (PRIs) Measures for active involvement of the Resident Welfare association was considered desirable in context of Delhi. Other NFAC initiative during the year also saw focused workshop on the theme of convergence related to maternal and child health. This was organized at Timarpur vocational training centre on 30th June, 2016. Village level convergence meets in Deo and Majhui have been organised at regular intervals as well.

Promoting Value Based Quality Education

NANAK supports value based quality education primarily in rural areas of Bihar for children of low income families. Dr. Radhika Raman Public School is a flagship initiative in rural education with a hub and spoke approach covering a cluster of villages in Sasaram in Bihar. This school supported by NANAK is committed to providing quality education and infrastructure to all children in the region and has adopted an innovative approach to education by combining computer education, audio-visual learning with the use of projectors and the teaching of values and morals in addition to the standard course curriculum to prepare a more skilled, responsible, and compassionate future generation for the nation. The organization also identifies girls from low income families who need financial support to continue their higher education and gives them mentoring support for higher education. Eleven girls successfully completed B.TECH from Sityog Institute of Technology in Bihar with fee waiver and part sponsorship from NANAK.

Furthermore, NANAK also conducts Early Childhood Development classes and remedial class for the children belonging from socio-economically weak families in Kamta Seva Kendra, Deo and the vocational training centres in Delhi as well

Women Empowerment

NANAK has set up a number of women empowerment convergence centres to provide vocational training, awareness on health, hygiene and nutrition, legal literacy, counselling, collectivize women in Self Help Groups and build their capacities for income earning opportunities. The trainers help women from the disadvantaged community to market their produce through participation in fairs and exhibitions. Women are trained to use their local skills and knowledge into income augmentation activities through which they can be economically empowered. This has also ushered in social empowerment of women in the region since the women SHGs are also taking up various social issues in a collective manner, such as anti-alcoholism, promoting the education of girl child, raising voice against domestic violence etc. Women from low income groups are trained in account keeping, branding, communication, pricing, customer interface etc by giving them exposure to exhibitions and fairs. Women from rural areas are provided a rare opportunity to get first-hand experience in entrepreneurial development by exposure visits held from time to time. Self-Defence training for women and girls has also been promoted for women and girls for enhancing safety and self-protection for the target area.

NANAK has partnered with PHD Chamber of Commerce Family Welfare Foundation to support its pioneering programme called 'Chalo Gaon Ki Ore' which a holistic model of empowerment through women as key drivers of the change. NANAK started a Centre at Raipurchor village, Sasaram, Bihar for providing livelihood opportunities to many women in the vicinity throughout 2016. The Centre provided 6 months courses in beautician training and stitching, tailoring, and merchandising. PHD Family Welfare Foundation provided support for running this centre. Two trainers were employed, one each in beauty and wellness and one for stitching, tailoring and merchandising. The Centre provided training to women from disadvantaged backgrounds, at nominal fees to empower them.

Other Development Initiatives

NANAK also supports environmental promotion initiatives through tree plantation drives, Awareness Generation programs, and involving community in a community based sanitation approach. Major breakthrough in sanitation has been convincing community members in Bihar to participate in the government programme of building toilets under the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan. Health care interventions also form a part of the focus area of intervention for the community in need. Awareness generation programmes for women and children have been taken up on a regular basis. In order to instil a sense of social responsiveness, children are encouraged to collectively take up social issues such as campaigns against child marriage, alcoholism and gender discrimination. Women are also given platforms for taking up social issues such as sanitation, hygiene, nutrition, etc. Special days such as teachers day, children's day, Gandhi Jayanti etc. are commemorated with special events in the rural areas where NANAK has adopted a hub and spoke model.

Publications

NANAK has initiated a unique periodical by the name of 'Gaon Ki Selfie' to give regular space to voices of women, children and other development sector partners from different states. It also focuses on different themes which are contemporary in nature with a view to draw the attention of different stakeholders including policy makers to the issues which need to be articulated and addressed.

The programmes and projects of NANAK include a life cycle approach and area based convergence approach for early childhood development, primary education, support for higher education to meritorious children from low income groups, skill training, leadership development of women, community awareness on social issues etc. A magazine called "Bal Mukh Kanth" for the children, by the children is also being launched by NANAK on 26th January 2020.

Projects and Interventions in year 2019-2020

Dr. Radhika Raman Public School, Majhui, Bihar

NANAK has been driven by the vision that in remote rural villages, education centres have a very significant role in becoming community hubs especially for bringing about positive behavioral change in the community as a whole. The primary school set up in Mujhai, Bihar is a case in point for such innovation. Setting up a Library and Information Centre in the school premises was imbued with such a vision so that the same infrastructure could be optimally used for the entire village community after school hours. The school thus became a hub for taking up social issues like plantation drives, health drives, awareness campaigns, marches, etc.

Some highlights related to the village school

- Audio-Visual Classes: Innovative teaching and learning material through use of audio-visual learning using projector/computers has made the classes very interactive and learning simpler. The school also shows educational movies to students and villagers every Saturday.

- Computer training: All students have the opportunity to attend computer classes.
- Hobbies/ Extra-Curricular: Students are encouraged to explore and discover their creative passions. Timetables include lessons in music, dance, art, physical education, reading, etc. Events, competitions and marches/drives on social and environmental issues are organized on a regular basis, for instance tree plantation drive undertaken on World Environment day, special assemblies on special occasions like Independence Day, etc.
- Community cultural events: Cultural events for the entire village and school community are organized from time to time with school as the hub. International Women's Day celebration, Teachers Day, Independence Day, etc. have been used as occasions for spreading awareness on rights, duties, responsibilities with students being the brand ambassadors for change

Course: Beauty Culture & Wellness

Session: July- December 2018

Location: Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Centre, Timarpur

I was totally disheartened and unemployed. I was not able to think about my-self. I lost my father at a very young age. My mother works as a maid. We were going through a financial crisis.

Through reliable sources I came to know about Nanak -Tata Power Vocational Training Center, Timarpur in July 2018, with intentions of integrating myself back into the workforce.

I started with the Beauty Culture Wellness course, and then continued with Beauty classes that included Mehendi, Saree Draping, Bridal Make-up, Hair Styles, Pedicure- Manicure, Body Massage, etc. Hair Spa, Rebounding and Smoothening and Nail Art.

I got a lot of “one-on-one” training and personal attention from instructor Ms. Uma. That aspect of the course really helped me absorb what was being taught. I couldn't imagine a productive life without it.

Today by the guidance and instructions received from Uma ma'am, I am working as a Beauty Therapist at 02SPA & Salon at IGI Airport, T-3. My monthly income is INR.10, 000/- approx.

My special thanks to my Instructor and NANAk Tata Power Vocational Training Center. I would recommend this course (Basic and Advanced) to anyone who hasn't had any formal beauty training – or to girls and women who are unemployed or under-employed. There is also a job readiness component to the Beauty and Wellness course. That is facilitated by Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Centre at Timarpur with experienced faculty.

I enjoyed the environment at Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Centre, Timarpur. The staff is down to earth and willing to help in any way they can.

Thanks & Regards

Course: Computer Application

Session : July-December 2018

Location : Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Centre, Timarpur

I came to Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Center at Timarpur in July 2018, with intentions of integrating myself back into the workforce. I started with the basic computer course, and then continued with computer classes that included MS SQL, Tally ERP, Microsoft Excel, Power-Point and Word. The training environment was ideal. I felt comfortable and I was constantly encouraged to push myself farther; to set goals and achieve them. It was a smaller classroom where I got a lot of “one-on-one” training and personal attention from my instructor Brijesh Sir. That aspect of the courses really helped me absorb what was being taught. I learned a multitude of technology-related things. I typed Google, I used different social media platforms, and I feel extremely at ease working in the Microsoft applications Word and Excel. This is a far cry from the knowledge I started out with. I couldn't imagine a productive life without it.

I would recommend all of these courses (Basic and Advanced) to anyone who hasn't had any formal computer training—or to folks who are unemployed or under-employed. There is also a job readiness component to the basic computer skills course. That is facilitated by Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Centre, Timarpur with experienced faculty. So, not only are you learning computer fundamentals; you are actually being prepared to look for a job, sit for an interview and ultimately take the skills you've learned with you to use on the job. I feel starting with the Basic Computer courses should be a first step for those individuals who will seek out employment in office, front desk, cashier/customer service or hospitality and retail sector jobs. And for those who want to take a more advanced, rigorous course; I'd recommend Word, PowerPoint or Excel.

I have gained employment at Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Centre, Timarpur now I am working as a Front Desk Officer in a reputed company, Vivo at Old Lajpat Nagar. I am earning INR. 15,000/- per month. Now I am self-dependent and capable to support my family financially.

I enjoy the environment at Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Centre, Timarpur. The staff is down to earth and willing to help in any way they can. You can spend one day in Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Centre, Timarpur computer lab and witness how Brijesh Sir and all the staff are passionate about empowering people.

Nanak-Tata Power Vocational Training Center, Timarpur is a great place to take computer courses whether your just beginning or contemplating becoming a trainer.

Thanks & Regards

मेरा नाम नेहा कुमारी नानक संस्था द्वारा संचालित कामता सेवाकेन्द्र में ब्यूटिशियन कोर्स दिसंबर, 2019 में पूरा कर चुकी हूँ । बिहार का एक छोटा सा गाँव जोधपुर में मैं अपने सयुक्त परिवार के साथ रहती हूँ, जहाँ कि मेरे पुरे परिवार की यह विचारधारा है कि लड़कियों को अपने सारे सपने और कुछ कर दिखाने की चाह को ख़तम कर सिर्फ घर की चार दीवारी में रहने चाहिए, जबकि मैं सिर्फ घर की चार दीवारी में ना रहते हुए कुछ करना चाहती थी, तब उस समय मुझे मेरे सपनों को साकार करने में कामता सेवा केन्द्र में ब्यूटिशियन कोर्स ने मुझे एक नयी रोशनी और अपने जीवन में कुछ करने का लक्ष्य दिया । मैं नानक संस्था और इसके सारे सदस्यों को दिल से धन्यवाद करती हूँ जिसके माध्यम से आज औरंगाबाद जिला के बहुत से गाँव के लड़कियों और महिलाओं को अपने जीवन में कुछ कर दिखाने के लिए प्रेरित और प्रशिक्षित करता है, साथ ही रीड इंडिया, जिसने नानक संस्था का सराहनीय कार्य में एक सहभागी के रूप में साथ निभाया, एक विशेष धन्यवाद का हकदार है । अब मैं ब्यूटिशियन का कोर्स कर बहुत खुश हूँ क्योंकि ब्यूटिशियन प्रशिक्षण प्राप्त कर मैं अपना और अपने परिवार की जिम्मेदारियों को उठाने में सक्षम हूँ ।
